

As we close out 2021, it is appropriate to remember those that contributed in so many ways to Realm Construction Company during the year. First and foremost, our customers are the reason we exist, and we owe you everything. Thank you for trusting us and for your loyalty. We will not forget you, and we will commit our skills, experience, and continued learning to whatever you may need from us in the years ahead. You ask. We'll deliver.

Realm's talented family of team members completed another trying year injury-free. They protected themselves and others from COVID infection. They deserve much credit for showing up every day while others preferred subsidies to working. Your talent makes us what we are.

With uncertain labor availability leading to manufacturing delays and delivery issues, our suppliers kept us going, kept is building. In some cases, this meant historic effort. Thank you.

Our families accepted long workdays and delayed meals, and some weekend work to keep to schedules. They tolerated seemingly endless trips to testing centers. They stood by us and didn't complain. We thank them for the support that got us to work every day.

To our customers, our talented team, our families, and our communities, thank you. To those across western Kentucky that are bravely dealing with disaster, we are helping as we can and will continue to do so. Our civic and charitable works in 2022 will focus on you.

As we complete a year of anxiety and uncertainty, we boldly look forward with each of you to a bright and prosperous new year.

William J. Receveur, III
CEO, Realm Construction Company

Thomas R. Banks
President, Realm Construction Company